

Lectors

As a Lector it is a duty and a privilege to proclaim God's Word in the Liturgy to the assembled faith community. A Lector's proclamation enables God's Word to achieve the purpose for which it was sent. Through the power of human speech, we can have a positive and profound affect on our listeners for the good of the Church. We, as Christian ministers help to strengthen the belief that God's Words find their fullest expression in that one perfect Word - Jesus; the Word made flesh. Good vocal skills and approximately one hour of training is all that is required.
